3 July, 2007
The African Association for Rhetoric

The African Association for Rhetoric is a body of scholars, rhetors and researchers who engage in interrogating the deployment of rhetoric and speech communication in political, social, cultural, judicial and deliberative contexts. The fundamental goal of the Association is to encourage rhetors from all over Africa and the rest of the world to participate in rhetorical debates as they relate to democratic governance and other pertinent intersections that may be of interest to them. The Association also seeks to promote scholarship in African Rhetoric. The Association's activities include conferences, occasional seminars and symposia. The proposed Association's main publication shall be AJR: African Journal of Rhetoric. The Association also seeks to honour individuals who have responsibly deployed rhetoric in the public domain.
